S&P Global Ratings

Americas Public Finance | Directory

Insight Driven by Experience

Navigate Complexity with Confidence

Today's municipal market is increasingly complex and challenging. We understand that to make decisions with confidence, you want new insights about credit risk. Whether you are an issuer, intermediary or investor, you need information about this risk that's based on in-depth market knowledge, forward-looking analyses and transparent criteria. And that's where our insight is essential.

For more than 60 years, our public finance team has provided credit ratings, analyses and market insights for a diverse range of public sector and not-for-profit entities. Our analysts have extensive industry experience, and our ratings reflect our deep understanding of the sector and regional nuances that drive short- and long-term credit trends. We also recognize that each bond issue is unique, and listen closely to you and your credit story.

Our public finance team is based in 10 regional offices, allowing us to strengthen connections with you and other market participants. We constantly strive to enhance our analytics to meet the demands of a dynamic market. To gain deeper insights about the market, we actively participate in industry conferences and programs, and host our own roundtables and other events. We're focused on emerging risks and market trends, and keep you up-to-date via our research and event-driven updates.

Our coverage, relationships and breadth of experience mean that our teams are uniquely positioned to provide you with the analyses and insights you need to make informed financing decisions.

LATAM – SOV/IPF

For more than 60 years, our team has provided credit ratings, analyses, and market insights for a diverse range of government issuers in Latin America. This team is comprised of analysts from across the US and Latin America with expertise in each sector, including sovereigns, multilateral lending institutions, local and regional governments, and higher education. By working together, this team supports deep analysis for ratings across different issuer and security types.

FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE OR USE, FREEDOM FROM BUGS, SOFTWARE ERRORS OR DEFECTS, THAT THE CONTENT'S FUNCTIONING WILL BE UNINTERRUPTED, OR THAT THE CONTENT WILL OPERATE WITH ANY SOFTWARE OR HARDWARE CONFIGURATION. In no event shall S&P Parties

be liable to any party for any direct, indirect, incidental, exemplary, compensatory, punitive, special or consequential damages, costs, expenses, legal fees, or losses (including, without limitation, lost income or lost profits and opportunity costs or losses caused by negligence) in connection with any use of the Content even if advised of the possibility of such damages.

Credit-related and other analyses, including ratings, and statements in the Content are statements of opinion as of the date they are expressed and not statements of fact. S&P's opinions, analyses, and rating acknowledgment decisions (described below) are not recommendations to purchase, hold, or sell any securities or to make any investment decisions, and do not address the suitability of any security. S&P assumes no obligation to update the Content following publication in any form or format. The Content should not be relied on and is not a substitute for the skill, judgment and experience of the user, its management, employees, advisors and/or clients when making investment and other business decisions. S&P does not act as a fiduciary or an investment advisor except where registered as such. While S&P has obtained information from sources it believes to be reliable, S&P does not perform an audit and undertakes no duty of due diligence or independent verification of any information it receives. Rating-related publications may be published for a variety of reasons that are not necessarily dependent on action by rating committees, including, but not limited to, the publication of a periodic update on a credit rating and related analyses.

To the extent that regulatory authorities allow a rating agency to acknowledge in one jurisdiction a rating issued in another jurisdiction for certain regulatory purposes, S&P reserves the right to assign, withdraw, or suspend such acknowledgement at any time and in its sole discretion. S&P Parties disclaim any duty whatsoever arising out of the assignment, withdrawal, or suspension of an acknowledgment as well as any liability for any damage alleged to have been suffered on account thereof.

S&P keeps certain activities of its business units separate from each other in order to preserve the independence and objectivity of their respective activities. As a result, certain business units of S&P may have information that is not available to other S&P business units. S&P has established policies and procedures to maintain the confidentiality of certain nonpublic information received in connection with each analytical process.

S&P may receive compensation for its ratings and certain analyses, normally from issuers or underwriters of securities or from obligors. S&P reserves the right to disseminate its opinions and analyses. S&P's public ratings and analyses are made available on its Web sites, www.standardandpoors.com (free of charge), and www.spcapitaliq.com (subscription) and may be distributed through other means, including via S&P publications and third-party redistributors.
